

Shadé Breedt is the current President of the IASSS and a final year medical student at Stellenbosch University in Cape Town, South Africa. She attended the World Congress of Surgery in Krakow in 2019 as part of the IASSS Future Surgeons Delegation. She has served as the President of her local surgical society, Vice-President of the South African Student Surgical Society, and in various roles in the IASSS. She has a keen interest in Neurosurgery, Academic Surgery, and Trauma Surgery.